Canada's Price For Wheat

The Toronto Globe and Mail is conducting an editorial campaign calculated to influence the Wheat Board into cutting the price of Canadian wheat. It argues that the United States will be more competitive next year when the support price for wheat in that country drops to $1.81 a bushel and the proper move for the Canadian Wheat Board to make is to slash prices now and get rid of the grain.

Actually Canadian wheat is favorably priced compared with United States wheat. But the Wheat Board is not empowered to give our wheat away, or dispose of the same for foreign currencies such as the U.S. Commodity Credit Corporation is now doing. It is plain, from the evidence given by George McIvor, chief commissioner of the Wheat Board, before the Agriculture Committee of the House of Commons, that if Canada started a wheat price war the United States would launch an overwhelming counter offensive. In the U.S. the federal treasury would carry the losses. In Canada the wheat farmers would be the losers.

The billion bushels of wheat (more or less) in the hands of the U.S. Commodity Credit Corporation has been bought at farm prices ranging from $2.06 to better than $2.20 a bushel. The $1.81 support price, if Congress accepts it, would mean for wheat deliveries from the 1956 crop, if the C.C.C. would sell the wheat it now owns at anything like the price paid for it, Canada's wheat would be a real loser.

The Globe and Mail does not seem to understand that the floor price in the United States is a national average farm price. The initial Wheat Board price in Canada, namely $1.40, is for 1 Northern wheat at the terminal, or around $1.23 in Alberta. The Wheat Board priced for 1 Northern, basis the terminal, for deliveries from the 1955 crop was only around $1.56. How much lower does the Toronto paper want the price of western wheat to go?

If prices of the goods and services farmers have to buy would drop, the wheat farmers would not mind a lower price. What about agitating for lower prices for farm machinery, clothing, boots and shoes, and all the range of things that farm people must buy? Presumably prices for many such manufactured goods are higher in Canada than in other countries. But tariffs protect the manufacturers.

It is not difficult for an editorial writer on the staff of the Globe and Mail to sit down in his Toronto office and tell the Wheat Board to cut the price of wheat. It's always easy to advise the "other fellow" to cut prices. But we'll venture to say that the Globe and Mail hasn't (and won't) cut its advertising rates or subscription price.

NBODY'S DOIN' NUTHIN' MUCH, SEPT FISHIN' & GOLFIN'

(From Our Own Correspondent)

These are the dog days as far as the newspapers are concerned, we certainly have nothing fresh to offer you in the news line, but our correspondents are as faithful as ever and have picked up the available items from their respective districts.

Just like mentioned in our very loose and ungrammatical heading, everyone seems to have gone fishing, golfing, or just sitting at home or cutting the lawn, but they sure are not co-operating to help us make at least a bit of hot copy.

This is not meant to be in the way of a slap at you people who are enjoying yourselves in any of the above mentioned pastimes. Wish we were with you!

However if you do happen to have visitors from out of town, happen to catch yourself a big fish, happen to break your leg on the golf course, or anywhere else, let us know about it; we're sure your friends and many of our subscribers would be interested.

By the way, if you want to know how to break your leg on the golf course, contact 12, that's the Pioneer office. (The fellow behind the phone will give you detailed instructions on just how to do it. No charge.)

Following is excerpts from a letter written by Mrs. Ray Johnston (died January 5, 1914) to Miss Henry Hooper, formerly Miss Leinie Stuart. The information contained we feel will be of interest to many old-timers as well as the greenhorns. We quote:

Neapolis, Alta.
Jan. 5, 1914

"Before I tell you about our holidays I must ask if you have heard of Didsbury's fire. On New Year's morning about 3:15 a.m. a fire broke out somewhere in the moving picture theatre, which by the way, was where the furniture store used to be. The fire spread both north and south and took both main business blocks.

Everything between the Union Bank and H. B. Atkins machine shed. Both hotels, the Royal Bank, Studebaker's, Coopers, W. G. Liesemer, J. V. Berscht's, Shantz's Hardware, Curtis', Weckers', Jones', Kauffmann's, the harness shop, jewelry store, drug store, Chinese restaurant barber shop, all gone.

"Clarence's, Will's, Phil Ward's and Ben and I went in to see the ruins on Friday and it is simply awful. Can you imagine nothing but ashes, tin roofing, and ruined goods clear up that street as far as the Union Bank, with here and there a safe, a heating stove or some thing else run out on the streets but more often the safes all burned and rusty standing in amongst the ruins.

"Berscht's only saved $1200 worth of goods out of $20,000 stock and lots of others did not save that much something at all."

Mr. Otto Bazanz, rated among the top three concert harpists in America, will hold a harp concert at Redeemer Lutheran Church on Monday evening, July 25, beginning at 8:00 p.m. Mr. Bazanz is the only living exponent of Lutheran and Christian hymnody on the harp in the United States. He studied under such great men as Enrico Tramonti, recognized as the world's greatest harpist; Edmund Schuecker, the great chorale harpist; and Joseph Vito, of Chicago. For many years Mr. Bazanz was a member of the symphony orchestras in Chicago and other Illinois cities. The harp he uses was especially made for exhibition in the Hall of Religion at the Chicago World's Fair, where Mr. Bazanz played it daily, following the fair he purchased the beautiful instrument. It is valued at $10,000.

One of life's little dramas started the concert artist on his career. In 1891 a retired musician in a little Wisconsin crossroads town called Detsville bought his son a violin. The father felt his son should follow in his footsteps as a violinist. The boy fiddled. In fact, he stood the violin on end and began plucking at the strings. When Otto Bazanz was nine years old the father bought him a harp. That was the start of his career. For forty years now, Otto Bazanz has been earning his livelihood with the harp. Although he has played the harp on national radio programs, Bazanz prefers to limit his work to churches. The deeply religious man reasons: "every man has a gift. The Lord gives it. Every man owes it to the Lord to use it for Him in the way best possible." He practices his music for three hours every afternoon. When asked why he needs so much practice after all these years, he says: "I am working for the Lord. My best is the least I can give Him."

A free offering will be taken following the concert. Redeemer most cordially invites everyone in the district to attend.

Death Toll In Alberta Increases

Motor accidents in Alberta decreased during the first six months of this year but the death toll and number of persons injured show increases, according to a summary of reports to June 30 compiled by the Alberta Safety Council.

Officials are confident that the province-wide Courtesy Campaign sponsored by the ASC for the month of July will promote a greater trend toward safe driving.

In the six months ended June 30, there were 92 deaths in motor car accidents, an increase of 10 over a year ago. For June only, there were 15, a reduction of three as against the same month of last year. The were none in Edmonton last month.

Calgary had one and Lethbridge one, while the remainder were reported by the RCMP in rural sections of the province.

Over the January to June period, Alberta had 7,599 motor accidents, compared with 7,603 in the similar period last year. The June report shows 1,145 for the month, which is an increase of 20.

Edmonton's total for June was 423 up from 385 a year ago, while Calgary dropped from 210 to 206. Medicine Hat reported 12 accidents, a decrease of one; Lethbridge down from 31 to 30, and Jasper Place from 12 to eight. Other towns and villages showed an aggregate of 15, which was off by four from the June total last year of 21. Reporting on rural districts, the RCMP showed 448 accidents last month, one less than a year ago.

Since the first of the year, 1,679 persons have suffered injuries in motor car accidents, says the report. The cumulative total a year ago was 1,514.

Due largely to accidents in rural areas, the total in June was 235, as against 313 in the same month of 1954. While rural areas showed 182 persons injured this was 12 below the total in the comparable period of last year.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

The healing power of true prayer will be set forth at Christian Science services on Sunday in the Lesson-sermon entitled "TRUTH." Among the scriptural selections to be read is the account of Christ Jesus' healing of the child with the "dumb spirit" including the answer his disciples received to their question as to why they did not cure the child: "And he said unto them, This kind can come forth by nothing, but by prayer and fasting." Mark 9:29. The practical power of prayer is also brought out in passages to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy including the following: "11: 27-31: 'Prayer cannot change the unalterable Truth, nor can prayer alone give us an understanding of Truth; but prayer, coupled with a fervent habit of desire to know and do the will of God, will bring us into all Truth.'"

TAKE THAT, and THAT!

Before a new telescope-type stretcher, was adopted by the Canadian Armed Forces, it gave the works. They jumped on it, dropped rocks on it, tossed it out of aircraft and army lorries, froze it in ice, buried it in mud and sand. They finally gave up—and placed the order.

Its lightness and compactness makes this rugged stretcher a natural for everything from northern air-rescue work to the needs of hospital, police, Civil Defence and other authorities.

Editors Have Troubles, Too

We do have fun in the newspaper business, especially on Friday, when we are given h... for the mistakes that will creep in or miss the vigilant eye of the proof-reader. Last week we made one of those "unforgivable errors by missing a name from below a group photograph, though we had spent five dollars on having a cut made. "Better to have never put it in," angrily remarked the complainant. After that we thought—better never to have spent time and money on it.

—Macled Gazette

The above, as you can see, is a reprint. Seems like we editors have to stand the wrath of our subscribers the odd time but that's what we're here for! If you have a beef, let's hear it—in the office please!

In a recent issue we printed an account of a wedding. When it appeared in print the bride was wearing mattresses, not mittens; quite a load for any young lady, bride or not.

This is just one of the instances when the gremlins are working and the proof-reader was looking in the wrong direction.

However, if those of you who are looking for our typographical errors were to count the number of letters, not lines, that appear in this issue of The Pioneer, and figure out how many there are, then count the errors, we believe our mistakes would be less than yours.

Newspapers will make mistakes as long as such a medium is used and normal everyday people have to operate the complicated machines which produce your weekly newspaper.

If we were perfect we wouldn't be here!!!

Billy McDonald, son of Mr. and Mrs. "Scotty" McDonald was rushed to the Olds General Hospital on Monday for an emergency appendicitis operation. He will soon be up and around again.

A very lovely Community Shower was held by the Harmattan Hill Club at the home of Mrs. Jim Schrader on Wednesday, July 6th honoring Miss Carroll Owens of Carstairs. Miss Owens who will become the bride of Mr. Vic Johnson on Saturday, July 9th was the recipient of many lovely gifts from the assembled guests. These were presented to her in a decorated wagon which represented the Harmattan School Bus and was very cleverly made for the occasion by Mr. and Mrs. Gene Conrad. The bus was drawn in by Miss Eleanor Moore and Miss Darlene Dodd and presented to the bride-elect. Mrs. Alfred Beauchamp and Miss Noreen Johnson assisted her in opening the gifts. A lovely coffee table was presented as a group gift by the Club members. The bride-to-be then thanked the guests and invited them to call and see her when she moves up to Harmattan later on. A delicious lunch was served by the ladies and one feature was a lovely bride-cake decorated by Mrs. Alfred Beauchamp and given to Carroll to eat and then passed around to each guest.

The ball game played at Harmattan against Westerdale on Sunday had a score of Harmattan 5, Westerdale 1.

Mr. and Mrs. Tony Spooner spent several days in Calgary and attended the parade and Stampede.

The Boy Who May Be King

What is it like to be a small boy and heir to the throne of England at the same time? Canadians are given a warm and revealing picture of life of Bonnie Prince Charles their future king, in the current issue of Coronet Magazine.

Titled "The Boy Who Will Be King," the Coronet article will be of interest to parents or growing children everywhere. It is not easy for a small boy to follow the strict training schedule that Prince Charles must follow. But even now, at six years of age, he has learned to check his natural high spirits, appear unobtrusive before a crowd, and to a strict training schedule.

Much of his early training has been devoted to counteracting shyness which is a family trait. He is continuously taught the lesson of punctuality so essential in observing the rigid royal timetable. Politeness to people is another prerequisite — this he has understood from his father to an almost excessive degree. He even reminds his sister, on occasion, "Anne, you haven't said thank you."

But in spite of the strict training programme he must follow, the Coronet article reveals his private family life to be much like any other small boy's. He is boisterous when playing the make-believe games of childhood. He loves to play cowboys and Indians, is fascinated by railway engines, and races his tricycle up and down palace corridors with unusual zest.

Prince Charles is still too young

Mrs. Swift is a niece of Mrs. Lowrie.

Mr. A. Oppen returned home Thursday after undergoing an operation in the Olds Hospital.

Mrs. A. Oppen attended Farm Womens Week held at the O.S.A. last week.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Waldruff motored to Medicine Hat on Saturday. Mrs. Waldruff and Keith remained to holiday for a few days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Broadhurst.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Geiger of Fruitvale, B.C. renewed acquaintances in the district on Sunday.

to know of the ordeals that he ahead. The speeches, ceremonies and public functions, the long official tours and millions of handshakes. But the warm family love given him by his parents, his present and continuing training and education, and his own inherent "naturalness." When the time comes for Prince Charles to be installed as "Prince of Wales", the motto "I Serve" will not be an empty phrase, it will be something that will have meaning for the boy who is destined to be our king.

SERVICE
NOTES
By
W. K. SNYDER
Agricultural Service Board

I have been asked on several occasions lately if the use of 2-4-D on pasture or hayland renders the feed unfit for livestock consumption. The answer is the same as it has always been, an emphatic NO. 2-4-D is not poisonous or injurious in any way to livestock when sprayed on grassland or hay. The Municipal sprayers are busy spraying weeds along the roadsides these days. Many people like to put up the hay along the roadsides for feed and are a bit worried about doing this after the sprayer has passed along that road. You can take it from me that you are perfectly safe, go ahead and put up all the hay you can. We are glad if the hay is removed. It makes the job easier for us when we go out to mow the roadsides later on in preparation for winter.

We have a supply of the insecticide ALDRIN on hand for spraying spruce trees. If you plan to use your weed sprayer for this job whether it is a knapsack or field sprayer make very sure that every trace of 2-4-D has been removed before using it to spray trees. Household ammonia is as good as anything to use in cleaning the tank after which give it several rinsings with clear water. The yellow spruce sawfly worm is very active these days on some infested winebreaks. Check over your spruce trees now before it is too late. These worms work fast and in the matter of a few days can defoliate a spruce tree.

KEEP A-GOIN'

If you strike a thorn or rose,
Keep a-go-in!
If it hails or if it snows,
Keep a-go-in!
Taint no use to sit an' whine
When the fish ain't on your line;
Bait your hook an' keep a-tryin'
Keep a-go-in!
When the weather kills your crop,
Keep a-go-in!
Though it's work to reach the top,
Keep a-go-in!
Spose you're out o' ev'ry dime,
Gittin' broke ain't any crime!
Tell the world you're feelin' prime
Keep a-go-in!
When it looks like all is up,
Keep a-go-in!
Drain the sweetness from the cup,
Keep a-go-in!
See the wild birds on the wing,
Hear the bells that sweetly ring,
When you feel like singin', sing —
Keep a-go-in!

WESTCOTT NEWS

(From Our Own Correspondent)

(Intended for last week)
Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Jacobson of Grants Pass, Oregon, U.S.A. cousins of Mr. John Jacobson, have returned after visiting here with the Jacobson relations this past week. Mr. and Mrs. Jack Robertson and daughter, Margaret, and also Mrs. Mary Mortimer, another daughter, and children who are visiting here from Ottawa spent last week at Banff.

The Westcott Community Club held a very successful picnic last Wednesday at the school house, even the weatherman co-operated making it possible for all to enjoy themselves out of doors. There were races for all ages and several ball games and in the evening the dance too was well attended.

Word has been received that one of the oldest of old-timers passed away in an old folks home in the person of Mr. Dan Habermehl. Mr. Habermehl lived here on his farm until taking sick last winter, we understand that the body will be shipped east for burial to a family plot there.

Sympathy is extended to the Tuggle family in their bereavement, they being well-known in this district.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Goetjen were among those who attended the funeral of Mr. Robert "Rusty" Stevenson at Olds on Saturday. Mr. Stevenson was killed while at work on an oil rig at Grande Prairie, he was the brother of Steve Stevenson, who formerly lived here at Westcott.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Johnson of Valleyview had their holiday extended out of necessity when Mr. Johnson became very ill requiring medical care, we are glad to report that he's feeling much better now and they expect to return home in a day or so. Mr. Les Goetjen has been sick also at his home.

A few fields of early sown grain is beginning to head out and on the whole crops have made wonderful progress and shows promise of making a good yield barring no calamity befalls it.

DISTRICT NEWS

M.V.B.C. NEWS

(From Our Own Correspondent)

On Monday morning the Campus cleared of its campers and things came back to normal at the College. It was a good camp. Rev. and Mrs. Beck ministered well in sermon and the playing of organ installed by Heinzmans. Rev. E. G. Archer preached in many of the morning services. Mrs. C. Hedegard brought interesting messages to the Youth Fellowship group here. Several other held children's meeting twice daily. One of the highlights was the presence of an Indian from the United Missionary Church of India. Rev. Hembrum spoke in several services and on Sunday he and Rev. R. Reilly, General Secretary of the U.M. Board of Missions, held a service where Mr. Reilly interpreted the message given in Bengali. Mr. Hembrum is touring the churches while on the continent and will be returning to his people later in the fall. The offerings were excellent. Offerings were taken for the College, Foreign Missions, Home Missions and Extension Work and for the running of the Camp. Each offering was good and the expenses were easily met by the campers.

It has been decided that most of the ministers who have taken different pastorates will move in about a month from now. Gull Lake Camp for the youth of the church will be held during that time, and ministers will be able to attend there and take part in that camp.

Rev. D. C. Eby and Rev. A. Frey will exchange pastorates this year and will be moving within the next couple of weeks.

A number of inquiries regarding the work of the College have come from distant places recently. We are expecting a good student body for the coming winter, and we are hoping to have both dormitories filled with young men and women.

The last heard about Mrs. Suder and Miss Walsh was from Gibraltar. They report a good voyage, no sea-sickness and beautiful weather. They will be in Italy at this time, and very soon in Palestine. We will be hearing from them very soon again and will keep you informed as to their journey.

Not too much news this week, but we do want keep you informed concerning things as they are here at the College. Every one is very busy and there is always a great deal of work to be done, but we do believe that the College has an influence for good in the community, and we want it to be so always.

Notes From D.A.

by H. W. Sutherland

The problem of weed control and spraying in this municipality is adequately handled and supervised by Walter Snyder and Jack McDonald of the Agriculture Service Board. It is not my intention to trespass on their authority but I would like to call a few things to your attention. It is absolutely essential that you follow directions closely. The strength of weed sprays varies and simply because your neighbor used 2 gallons of concentrate to 250 gallons of water is no certainty that you should do the same. Do not attempt any experiments with weed sprays on your own such as mixing two brands of concentrate, or using less concentrate and driving slower etc.

Many conditions determine the effectiveness of sprays, such as temperature at the time of spraying and for 6 hours after spraying, the humidity in the air, the size of both the crop and the weeds, the mineral content of the water used in mixing the spray and many others.

All sprays are not the same. Do not be misled into thinking that there is only one chemical which kill weeds and the variations in it are simply trade names or different strengths of the same material. New chemicals to affect weeds are coming out each year and variations are made for improvement annually.

Lastly, if you are in doubt, contact your service board or this office. We will be glad to help you, and we have some booklets and information on sprays and spraying which might be of interest to you. Remember, weed sprays are somewhat like fire, an excellent servant but a very poor master.

IN MEMORIAM

He has wandered into an unknown land,
And left us dreaming how very far.
It needs must be, since he lingers there,
So think of him faring on us dear.
In the love of There, as the love of Here.
Think of him still as the same and say,
He is not dead he is just away.
—In loving memory of our husband and father.

WEDDINGS

JOHNSON - OWENS

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Owens, Carstairs, was the scene of a lawn wedding on July 9 at 3 o'clock when Josephine Carol Owens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Owens, and Victor Albert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Johnson of Hartman, were united in marriage by Reverend Sam Sherman, uncle of the bride.

The bride, who was escorted up the rose-bud aisle of the lawn by her father, wore a pearl-studded, lace-trimmed net skirt over white taffeta. The pearl-studded strapless bodice of her dress was worn with a matching lace bolero jacket. Her finger-tip net veil was held in place by a crown headpiece. She carried a cascade bouquet of red sweetheart roses, entwined with white satin.

Miss Peggy Owens, her attendant, wore a cocktail length shrimp net-over-taffeta dress and carried a bouquet of yellow roses. The flower-girls, Donna Jean Dipple and Wanda Tuglie, wore pretty blue full-length net dresses with baskets of wild roses. Mrs. Wilfred Laft played the traditional wedding music, as well as for Janice Owens to sing "A Wedding Prayer" immediately preceding the ceremony and "I'll Walk Beside You" during the signing of the register.

The groom was attended by Mr. Everett Wright.

The mother of the bride wore an afternoon-length, turquoise net-over-taffeta dress with a corsage of white roses. The groom's mother chose a pink afternoon dress with a white corsage. The receiving line was held beside an arch of pink roses.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Everett Wright, Calgary, Mr. and Mrs. Brown of Calgary, Mr. and Mrs. McEwen, of Calgary, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Sherman of Warner, and Mr. Ed Johnson from England.

Following the ceremony, a buffet luncheon was held on the lawn outside the home. Mr. Lawrence Owens proposed the toast to the bride, to which the groom responded. During the evening, after open house was held for their friends, the couple left for Salt Lake City. The bride wore a full-skirted, brocade light blue dress with a corsage of red roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnson will reside at Hartman.

A jockey who had just booked home a long-shot was greeted excitedly by the horse's owner. "Tell me please what it was that you whispered in my horse's ear to make him run so fast."

"Oh," said the jockey, "all I did was recite poetry to him."

"Poetry?" screamed the owner in disbelief.

"Sure," answered the jockey. "Roses are red, violets are blue, horses that lose are made into glue!"
